

不确定时代的 合作

2023

2023 11 3

14:30-14:50

14:50-15:00

15:00-16:30	Arancha Gonzalez Dean and Professor of Paris School of International Affairs at Sciences Po
	Philippe Rheault Director and Professor of China Institute at the University of Alberta
16:30-16:50
16:50-17:00

17:00-18:00
	Professor of University of Illinois Urbana- Champaign
18:00-18:20
18:20

2023 11 4

8:30-9:45
	Tobias Berger Junior Professor at Free University of Berlin
	Chu Jangmin Chief Research Fellow, Korea Environment Institute
9:45-10:05
10:05-10:15

10:15-11:30
	Benjamin Goldsmith Professor, Australian National University
	Associate Director, China Institute at the University of Alberta
11:30-11:50
11:50-12:00
12:00

International Cooperation and Global Governance in the Era of Uncertainty Beijing Forum 2023 Agenda

Background

Currently the changes of the world, the century and the history are being unfolded in an unprecedented way. We have entered an era of deep uncertainty mainly driven by globalization, technological change, environmental risks, and geopolitical instability. Our world today is faced with complex and interconnected challenges that are multifaceted and require significant collective action from the global community to address. Deep uncertainty also means that public and private actors must make decisions based on incomplete or conflicting information. In the era of uncertainty, international cooperation and global governance are critical in addressing the complex challenges which are not confined to any particular country or region, and therefore require collective action from the global community. Without effective cooperation, it would be difficult to achieve shared goals, reduce conflicts, and promote sustainable development.

in the face of limited or conflicting evidence in international cooperation and global governance? How can innovation and creativity be promoted in the decision-making and processes of international cooperation and global decision-making to ensure that we can adapt and respond to ever-changing situations and risks? How can the needs and interests of different stakeholders at the individual, community, and national levels be balanced in a fair and sustainable manner? How can adaptive and resilient mechanisms be established at the local, national, and global levels to ensure that we can better respond to future crises and uncertainties, and so on.

This forum aims to tackle these questions by gathering insights and expertise from world-renowned scholars in relevant fields.

November 3rd, 2023 Afternoon

Venue: Sunlight Hall, Yingjie Exchange Center, PKU

Opening Ceremony 14:30-14:50

Opening Remarks

Moderator: Zhang Haibin, Vice Dean and Professor, School of International Studies, Peking University

An Yufeng, Vice Chairman of the University Affairs Committee of Peking University

Tang Shiqi, Dean and Professor, School of International Studies, Peking University

Pan Jiang, Deputy Director General, Department of International Cooperation of the National Development and Reform Commission, China

Group Photo 14:50-15:00

Chair: Wang Fan President, China Foreign Affairs University
15minutes for each speaker

TIME	SPEAKERS	TOPIC 1
15:00-16:30	Arancha Gonzalez Dean and Professor of Paris School of International Affairs at Sciences Po	Globalization under Deep Uncertainty: Regaining Confidence and Rebuilding Trust
	Yang Guangbin Dean and Professor, School of International Studies, Renmin University of China
	Philippe Rheault Director and Professor, China Institute at the U.S.-Asia-Europe Forum
	Jia Lieying Dean and Professor, School of International Relations of Beijing Language and Culture University

Gao Z.3ie53001 0.4801

Chair: Zhang Qingmin Vice Director and Professor of the Academic Committee of the School of International Studies, Peking University 15minutes for each speaker

TIME	SPEAKERS	TOPIC 2
17:00-18:00	Ren Minghui Former Assistant Director-General of the World Health Organization, Director and Professor of the Institute for Global Health, Peking University	Policy and Decision-making for the World and the Future: Strengthening International Organizations
	Feng Zhongping President and Professor, Institute of European Studies of Chinese Academy of Social Sciences
	Dai Xinyuan Professor of University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign
	Liu Lianlian Tenured Associate Professor, School of International Studies, Peking University
18:00-18:20	Q&A

November 4th , 2023 Morning

Venue: Sunlight Hall, Yingjie Exchange Center, PKU

Chair: Dong Zhaohua Vice Dean, School of International Studies, Peking University (15 minutes for each speaker)

TIME	SPEAKERS	TOPIC 3
8:30-9:45	Zhu Feng Executive Dean and Professor, School of International Studies, Nanjing University	International Cooperation in an Era of Deep Uncertainty: New Challenges and New Opportunities
	Tobias Berger Professor at Free University of Berlin
	Chen Qi Vice Director and Professor, Center for International Security and Strategy, Tsinghua University
	Chu Jangmin Chief Research Fellow, Korea Environment Institute
	Chen Muyang Assistant Professor, School of International Studies, Peking University
9:45-10:05	Q&A
10:05-10:15	TEA BREAK

Chair: Wu Xinbo Dean,

参会人员简介

CVs of Participants

Vice Chairman and Secretary General of the University Affairs Committee; Research Fellow; President of Labor Union, Peking University

International Affairs, European Journal of International Relations, World Development, Studies in Comparative International Development, Development Policy Review, Review of International Political Economy, New Political Economy, China International Strategy Review,

Muyang Chen is an Assistant Professor at Peking University's School of International Studies. Her research lies at the intersection of political economy, international development, and international relations, focusing on the role of the state in development and a order. She also studies the role of public financial agencies in facilitating development assistance, export finance, and industrialization.

Her work has appeared in International Affairs, European Journal of International Relations, World Development, Development Policy Review, Studies in Comparative International Development, Review of International Political Economy, New Political Economy, China International Strategy Review, and The Oxford Handbook of Industrial Policy. At Peking University, she teaches International Development Policy (undergraduate) and China and Global Development (graduate).

Muyang holds a Ph.D. from the University of Washington, an M.A. from the Univ and Waseda University. She was a research fellow at the Global Development Policy Center of Boston University and a visiting scholar at Japan's National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies.

International Politics

Chinese Journal of

CHEN Qi is a Professor of School of Social Sciences, Tsinghua University; Director of Center for China-US Relations; Deputy Director, CISS, Tsinghua University.

Dr. Chu Xiaobo is a Professor of the School of International Studies, Peking University and Director of Institute of Afro-Asian Studies and Institute of Japanese Studies of Peking University. He has been a standing trustee of the Chinese Association for rests cover East Asian studies and crisis management studies. He has published numerous works, and about 70 papers in these fields.

Rethinking Regional Cooperation in an Era of De-globalization: The Case of Japan

Dr. Dong Zhaohua is an Associate Professor of Department of International Political Economy, Associate dean of School of International Studies, Peking University. Dr. Dong received her B.A. from Peking University, and Ph.D. in International Relations from both Waseda University and Peking University. Her research interest lies in the Political Economy of Globalization, with the focus on domestic politics and global economic ment and

-
n Asia-Pacific (2021).

Feng Zhongping, Director & Professor, Institute of European Studies, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences (CASS); President of the China-CEE Institute; President of the Chinese Association for European Studies. Prof. FENG received Ph.D. at the Department of history in the University of Lancaster, UK. His research focuses on the EU, Sino-European relations, transatlantic relations, NATO, etc. He is author of many books and papers both in Chinese and English.

GAO Zugui Chair Professor and Dean of the Institute for International Strategic Studies (IISS), the Party School of CPC Central Committee and China National Academy of Governance (CCPS/CNAG). He also serves as doctoral advisor and post-doctoral research advisor at CCPS/CNAG. His research focuses on international strategy and security, China's foreign strategy, US relations with the Islamic world, and the Middle-east issues, etc. He participated in a series of major research programs on topics including thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era, Xi Jinping Thought on Foreign Affairs, and Xi Jinping's Statements on the Concept of Comprehensive National Security, etc. He has published a number of books and over a hundred scholarly papers.

Dr. Jia Lieying is the Dean and Doctoral Supervisor of School of International Relations of Beijing Language and Culture University, as well as the Director of the U.N. Studying Center of BLCU.

His study mainly focuses on China diplomacy and International Organizations. He has been a visiting scholar at Sheffield University, California State University, Lucian Blaga University, Keimyung University and Hungary National University of Public Service, Dr. Jia lieying received a B.A. in Peking University and a M.A. in Communication University of China and a Ph.D. from China Foreign Affairs University.

Social part-time jobs include a member of the first National International Affairs Professional Degree Graduate Education Guidance Committee; Vice President of the International Political Research Association of Beijing Universities; Member of the United Nations Association of China.

Liu Lianlian, Associate Professor of the School of International Studies at Peking University, Deputy Director of the PKU Center for International Organization Studies, and Consultant Expert of the National Commission of P.R.C. for UNESCO. She mainly studies international organizations, multilateralism and international rule of law. She has published over 20 academic arti
Fundamentals of the Science of

The Global Collaboration Against Transnational Corruption: Motives, Hurdles and Solutions respectively.

2014 2020

Mr. PAN Jiang, Deputy Director General of the Department of International Cooperation of the National Development and Reform Commission (NDRC), Director General of External Affairs Group of Office of the Leading Group for Promoting the Belt and Road Initiative. He was the Economic Counselor and the head of the Economic Section contributing to the economic cooperation between China and the US. Previously, he worked in the NDRC for many years, mainly engaging in the development of the western China and SME.

Political Analysis

-

World Politics

PANG Xun is the Boya Young Professor in the School of International Studies at Peking University, the director of PKU's Analytics Lab for Global Risk Politics, the associate editor of Political Analysis (the flagship journal of the Society for Political Methodology), the deputy director of the Central Committee for Education and Social Affairs of the China Democratic League. Before joining the faculty of Peking University, Prof. Pang was Assistant Professor in the Department of Politics at Princeton University, Associate Professor and then Professor in the School of Social Sciences at Tsinghua

University, the co-director of the Carnegie-Tsinghua Global Policy Center, the vice dean of Tsinghua's Institute for International Relations Studies, the visiting research scholar at the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance at Princeton University, the director of . the Central Committee for Young Leaders of the China Democratic League, and the associate editor of World Politics. Prof. PANG's research interests include theories and methods for global risk politics, international organizations and global governance, sustainable development, Bayesian statistics and causal inference in social sciences. Prof. Pang received her B.A. and M.A. from Peking University and Ph.D. from Washington University in St. Louis.

2016 1

2022 11

Dr. REN Minghui is a Professor of global health in the School of Public Health and the Director of Institute for Global Health Peking University, China. He graduated from School of Public Health, and Peking University Health Science Center with his Ph.D. He was the Director General of International Health Cooperation in the Ministry of Health (National Health and Family Planning Commission) China, and the Assistant Director-General of the World Health Organization (WHO) in Jan 2016-Nov 2022. He was awarded the Honorable Mention of the Russian Federation and the Ordre National du Mérite of France.

Tang Shiqi, Dean and Professor of School of International Studies, Director of Institute of Area Stud

Government, State and Society, A History of Western Political Thoughts, Globalization and Territoriality, Politics of Rationalism: Its Origin, Crisis and Sublation, etc.

1995-1997

100

100

Prof. WANG Fan is President and Deputy CPC Party Secretary of China Foreign Affairs University (CFAU), President of China Diplomatic Academy (CDA). He works as a Professor, Ph.D. Supervisor of CFAU. He has won the Beijing Outstanding Teachers discipline construction. Meanwhile, he is Head and Supervisor of Postdoctoral Workstation in CFAU. Professor WANG is Vice President of the Chinese Society of International Relations, Vice President of the Chinese Association of American Studies, and has been granted Special Allowance from the State Council.

He received B.A. from Peking University, M.A. from University of International Relations, and Ph.D. from China Foreign Affairs University. He was assigned abroad working as a diplomat in Chinese Embassy in the UK from 1995 to 1997. He completed postdoctoral studies in World History at Capital Normal University.

He has worked as Director of the Institute of International Relations (CFAU), Director of the International Security Research Center, Assistant President of CFAU, and Vice President of CFAU.

His research areas mainly include Sino-US Security and Major Power Security Strategy. He has published extensively, including over 100 research papers in academic journals and over 100 articles in newspapers and periodicals. His representative works are -Pacific Region, Diplomacy, United States Policy towards East Asia.

The Washington Quarterly
(European Journal of International Security)
International Affairs
2012-2013 2013-2014
CSCAP

Dr. WU is Professor and Dean, Institute of International Studies, and Director at the Center for American Studies, Fudan University. He teaches and researches international and security policy, Sino-U.S. relations, and U.S. Asia-Pacific policy. Prof. Wu is the author of Dollar Diplomacy and Major Powers in China, 1909-1913 (Fudan University Press, 1997), Turbulent Water: US Asia-Pacific Security Strategy in the post-Cold War Era (Fudan University Press, 2006), Managing Crisis and Sustaining Peace between China and the United States (United States Institute of Peace, 2008), The New Landscape in Sino-U.S. Relations in the Early 21st Century (Fudan University Press, 2011), and co-authored Asia-Pacific Regional Order in Transformation (Current Affairs Press, 2013), China and the Asia-Pacific Chess Game (Fudan University Press, 2017). His work has also appeared in English language journals such as International Affairs, The Washington Quarterly, Journal of Contemporary China, Contemporary Southeast Asia, Asian Survey as well as Chinese language journals published in China. He also contributed chapters to book volumes published by Stanford University Press, Columbia University Press, Oxford University Press, etc.

Dr. Wu is on the editorial board of The Washington Quarterly, European Journal of International Security and on the International Advisory Board of International Affairs. He was a member of the World Economic Forum's Risk and Resilience and served as its Vice-Chair (2012-13) and Chair (2013-14), and a member of the Journal of International Economics (2015-2016). He is currently a member on the Advisory Council of Asia Society Policy Institute, as well as a member of The Trilateral Commission.

Dr. Wu entered Fudan University in 1982 as an undergraduate student and received his B.A. in history in 1986. In 1992, he got his Ph. D. in international relations from Fudan University. In the same year, he joined the Center for American Studies, Fudan University. In 1994, he spent one year at the George Washington University as a visiting scholar. In the fall of 1997, he was a visiting fellow at the Asia-Pacific Research Center, Stanford University and the Henry Stimson Center in Washington DC. From January to August, 2000, he was a Visiting Fellow at the Brookings Institution. From September 2006 to July 2007, he was a Jennings Randolph Senior Fellow at the United States Institute of Peace.

CRSD

C-EENRG

SCI/SSCI

Policy Space Conflicts

in Global Trade Politics Routledge forthcoming The Boundary of Supranational Rules: Revisiting Policy Space Conflicts in Global Trade Politics Structural Conflict under the New Green Dilemma: Inequalities in Development of Renewable Energy for Emerging Economies

Dr. Qinyi Xu is Assistant Professor at the School of International Studies, Peking

also the researcher at Institute of Carbon Neutrality, Peking University and Director of Strategic Planning and Cooperation at PKU Analytics Lab for Global Risk Politics, Peking University. Before joining Peking University, Dr. Qinyi Xu served as Research Associate at the Centre for Resilience and Sustainable Development (CRSD) and Researcher at the Cambridge Centre for Environment, Energy and Natural Resource Governance (C-EENRG), University of Cambridge. Her research spans global climate governance, environmental & energy security and economics to international political economy (global trade politics and governance). She has published widely in SCI/SSCI journals, with a special focus on security and risks, role conflicts, climate leadership and trade-environment nexus in climate governance. Her recent publications include Policy Space Conflicts in Global Trade Politics (Routledge forthcoming), The Boundary of Supranational Rules: Revisiting Policy Space Conflicts in Global Trade Politics, Structural Conflict under the New Green Dilemma: Inequalities in Development of Renewable Energy for Emerging Economies, etc.

2009

19) and visiting scholar at Stanford University and Harvard University (2005-06) and studied at the University of Tokyo (1998-2000). Yu is executive editor in chief of China International Strategy Review and has written extensively on international security, East Asian international relations, and Teaching Award and Distinguished Research Award in 2010 and 2017, respectively. Yu received his B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. from Peking University.

Dr. ZHANG Haibin is the Vice Dean and Professor of the School of International Studies, Director of the Center for International Organization Studies, Peking University (PKU) Vice Dean of the Institute of Carbon Neutrality, PKU, and the Vice Dean of the Institute of Global Health and Development, PKU. His major research areas are international organizations, to the Ministry of Commerce, China, on trade and environment issues; member of the Board of United Nations Association of China; adviser to the Ministry of Culture and Tourism China, on public service issues; advisor to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Germany, on climate and security issues; and executive member of Global Health Council of Chinese Preventive Medicine Association.

Zhang Qingmin is Deputy Director of Academic Committee of School of International Studies, Chair and Professor of the Department of Diplomacy with the School of International Studies, Peking University. His teaching and research interests include theories of Foreign Policy Analysis and Theory of Diplomacy with a focus on China. He is the author of U.S. Arms Sales Policy toward Taiwan: a Decision-Making Perspective, Diplomacy in Forty Years Since Opening Up and Reform and many peer reviewed journal articles and book chapters both in Chinese and English. He has translated from English to Chinese Woodrow Wilson and Colonel House: A Personality Studies, Groupthink: Psychological Studies of Policy Decisions and Fiascoes, and Diplomacy in A Globalizing World: Theory and Practice. He was a founding editorial board member of Foreign Policy Analysis, Associate Editor of Journal of International Law and International Board member of The Hague Journal of Diplomatic Studies.

2014

CSIS

China's Ascent: Power, Security and International Politics co-edited with Prof. Robert S. Ross, Cornell University Press, 2008
 America, China and the Struggle for the World Order co-edited with Prof. G. John Ikenberry and Prof. Wang

Jisi, MacMillan

2015 21

2016

2007

2008

2017

2021

2023

Prof. Zhu Feng is Dean of School of International Studies of Nanjing University. He also serves as Executive Director of Center of Collaborative Studies of South China Sea, a leading think tank in China which is specifically working on maritime security analysis in the Western Pacific. Prof. Zhu Feng used to be a Professor and Deputy Director of Institute of International Strategic Studies in Peking University. His major research interest lies on China-US relations, East Asian regional security and maritime competition. Professor Zhu

Ascent: Power, Security and International Politics (co-edited with Prof. Robert Ross, Cornell University Press, 2008), and America, China and the Struggle for the World Order (co-edited with Prof. G. John Ikenberry and Prof. Wang Jisi, Macmillan, 2016).

Foreign Participants, in alphabetical order

Arancha Gonzalez

Arancha González is the third Dean of Paris School of International Affairs (PSIA) at Sciences Po and first woman to lead the world's third school for Politics and International Studies.

Prior to joining PSIA, Ms.

European Union and Cooperation (2020-2021). She previously was Assistant-Secretary-General of the United Nations and Executive Director of the International Trade Centre (2013-2020). Between 2005 and 2013 she served as Chief of Staff to the Director-General of the World Trade Organization, Pascal Lamy. Before that she held senior positions at the European Commission in the areas of international trade and development. Ms. González started her career as lawyer in the private sector. Ms. González has been a member of PSIA's Strategic Committee since 2017.

Benjamin E. Goldsmith

Professor in the School of Politics and International Relations at the Australian National University. His research is in the areas of international relations, comparative foreign policy, and atrocity forecasting. He is the author of the book Imitation in International Relations: Observational Learning, Analogies, and Foreign Policy in Russia and Ukraine, as well as articles in leading academic journals including European Journal of International Relations, Journal of Conflict Resolution, Journal of Peace Research, Journal of Politics, Quarterly Journal of Political Science, and World Politics. His research has and the Australian Research Council (ARC), including an ARC Future Fellowship (2015-18). He is a founding member of the executives of the Australian Society for Quantitative Political Science and the Pacific International Politics Conference.

Chu Jangmin

Dr. CHU, Jang Min is the Chief Research Fellow of the Division for Green Transition at Korea Environment Institute (KEI), and served as a Vice President of the institute from December 2017 to February 2019. Since February 2019, he has been on the Special Committee on air pollution which is under the direct control of the Prime Minister, and since December 2019 to May 2022, he acted as a member and head of Future Policy Research Bureau of the Presidential Commission on Policy Planning. He has been serving as a Korean member of the Korea-China Environmental Cooperation Center Steering Committee since 2019. Dr. Chu received his Ph.D. in Environmental Science from Peking University in 2002. He had published a great number of research reports on the environmental cooperation in Northeast Asia and global level, such as Joint Research on Environmental Governance in Northeast Asia (-) (2012~2015), Research on Diplomatic Response to Fine Dust (2017), International Environmental Cooperation Strategies for Post-COVI Environmental Cooperation (2020- (2020).

Dai Xinyuan

Professor of Political Science, University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign
Center for East Asian and Pacific Studies
Center for Global Studies, Faculty Affiliate
Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies
Cline Center for Advanced Social Research
European Union Center
The Program in Arms Control & Domestic & International Security
Associate Professor of Political Science, University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign, 2007
Assistant Professor of Political Science, University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign, 2001

Jia Wang

Deputy Director of the China Institute at the University of Alberta, where she manages research, programs, and government and media relations since 2011. Jia has over 17 years of direct management experience focusing on the economic and political dimensions of contemporary China and Canada-China relations in various capacities. At the China Institute, in addition to overseeing the operations, she leads policy research initiatives examining Canada's diplomatic, trade, investment and energy linkages with China. Jia also provides strategic and policy advice on China to University senior leaders as well as executives at public and private sector organizations.

Philippe Rheault

A lawyer and diplomat, L. Philippe Rheault takes on the leadership of The China Institute following a 25-year career in the Canadian foreign service, where he mainly focused on China and East Asia. He has been posted to the region six times: to Beijing, Taipei, Chongqing (twice), Mongolia, and Guangzhou. Notably, he has headed two of southwestern metropolis of Chongqing (2012-2017) and most recently as the Consul

Tobias Berger

Junior professor for Political Science with reference to the Transnational Politics of the Global South at the Otto-Suhr-Institute of the Freie Universität Berlin. He is also

Contestations

After obtaining his Ph.D. from the Berlin Graduate School for Transnational Studies, he was a visiting fellow at the Department of Law and Anthropology at the Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology in Halle (Saale, Germany) as well as a junior research

Local Courts: Translating the Rule of Law in B

University Press in 2017. His broader research interests encompass international political sociology, law, state and society in the Global South, ethnographic methods, and the transnational politics of Southern Asia.